EASTERN NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Fi[illegible] Outlook in the East.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—All advices to-day touching the financial situation at home and abroad are of a very reassuring character. The reopening of the Stock Exchange to-morrow is an event looked upon with much less apprehension than has heretofore been the case, owing to many private settlements and a manifest disposition toward forbearance and generous dealing between man and man. At a meeting of the governing board of the Stock Exchange this afternoon it was resolved that nothing in the action of the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange shall be construed as absolving any member from his obligations to rules.

Business is decidedly improving. At the Produce Exchange a much more hopeful feeling is expressed. In fact, business may be said to be getting back into its old channels, and the gloomy appearance as to foreign exchange appears to be yielding to brighter prospects.

The loan committee of the Clearing House met this morning to continue the loan certificates. The manager said everything looked favorable for banks and the public, and he could see no reason for further [illegible].

The Tribune to-morrow will contain a leader upon the [illegible] of [illegible] payments.

Westley, receiver of the Union Trust Company, this morning denied that Commodore Vanderbilt had returned to the company their loan to the Lake Shore Railroad Company.

[illegible]ing of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Wall, Broad and New streets, in front of the several entrances to the Stock Exchange, were crowded this morning as the hour of opening approached. When the doors were thrown open, members and speculators rushed in, filling the floor of the Exchange and the visitors' gallery. The members [illegible] around the President's desk, cheering vociferously and waving hats. Promptly at 11 o'clock President Chapman rapped to order. He spoke as follows: "We have met again, after a very momentous suspension, for the purpose of resuming business. Your action in the interim has met with universal approbation, and has been satisfactory to yourselves. Business would be carried on under rules adopted yesterday by the governing committee, which had the appointing of the committee to settle the contracts of defaulters. All I ask now is that you help each other to bear the burden fallen on us, to conduct business so as to enable the Exchange to carry on its work successfully."

Loud cheering followed this address, and the business was begun. Good feeling appears to exist. Under considerable pressure to sell and realize on stocks prices have declined from those current at the opening from one to three per cent. Bankers generally are unwilling to operate for customers on margin until affairs become more settled.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—An impression prevails on the street and 'Change that all leading houses will pull through, in which event a [illegible] will be infused throughout financial circles. Smith & Leaver, who were reported suspended on the 10th, announce that they will pay all dues in full and resume. The price of money will depend upon the [illegible] and the settlement is now [illegible] [illegible] who look for a [illegible] of the market, as [illegible] in foreign [illegible], which is looked upon as a favorable symptom of returning confidence. Leading [illegible] their rates to 6[illegible] per cent. on [illegible] and 7[illegible] for sight, but actual [illegible] was a reduction from these rates.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Henry J. Brooks, [illegible], has [illegible] owing to the past financial troubles. He hopes for an extension of time from his creditors, and he will then resume business.

[illegible] Liquidation.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The Directors of the Union National Bank, after paying over $400,000 yesterday, held a meeting last night and decided to put the bank into liquidation. It has abundant assets to cover all liabilities.

Co[illegible] of [illegible].

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 29.—At the close of business to-day all banks had received more money than they had paid out. Currency is scarce.

Assistant Secretary Sawyer telegraphed to the President of the Chamber of Commerce that Charleston will have all relief afforded to other places.

ATLANTA, Sept. 29.—All banks here have partially resumed currency payments, but the cotton market continues dull and nominal. Only fifty-two bales were sold to-day.

Death of Admiral Winslow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A telegram from Boston last night says Admiral Winslow, U. S. N., who commanded the Kearsarge when she sunk the Alabama, died at his residence at Boston Highlands last evening.

Opposition [illegible] to China and Japan.

A Washington dispatch says an officer of the U. S. Navy, lately attached to the Asiatic squadron, arrived yesterday from Yokohama, Japan. He makes the announcement that an English company has completed arrangements, and will at an early day establish a line of steamers to run in opposition to the P. M. S. Co.'s line between San Francisco and China and Japan. They promise to make the run between the ports in 17 days, thus making a saving of time of between five and six days.

The Yellow Fever.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 29.—The Board of Health reports one death from yellow fever, and five new cases within the past 48 hours.

Yellow Fever Abating Only for Lack of Victims.

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 29.—Within the last four days several of the most prominent and respectable citizens of Shreveport have fallen victims to the epidemic. The population has been fearfully thinned out by sickness and death. We have no longer single funerals; a hearse, followed by one or two carriages, dashes quickly through the street like a section of artillery in battle seeking a position. A few more bodies are drummed into coffins, shoved into the hearse and the collection is driven rapidly to the cemetery. This is the case even with the most prominent citizens. The Howard Association have opened an Orphan Asylum and are feeding about two-thirds of the resident population. There are fewer deaths and new cases because there are fewer people.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Condition of Washington Banks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—There is an improved feeling in financial circles. Banks and banking houses outside the combination are doing an increased business, while those in the combination are declining to cash the smallest checks.

The Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—It is stated the Treasury Department to-morrow will exhibit a fair reduction of the public debt, notwithstanding the revenues of the month have been comparatively very light. The Treasury disbursements for the usual expenses of the Government for the month ending to-day have been below the average of expenses for the last three or four months.

Patent Issued.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office to-day issued a patent for Rancho San Julian, eleven square miles in Santa Barbara county, California, Jose de la Guerra y Norriega confirmee.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Ashantee War.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The latest news from the Ashantee war is satisfactory. The natives are in a state of [illegible] starvation, and it is supposed that they are waiting for the end of the rainy season. They will be unable until then to make any movement. A merchant vessel was discovered selling them powder. She has been seized by the British commander and a blockade of the coast has been declared to prevent any similar occurrence.

Spanish War News.

MADRID, Sept. 29.—The town of Berga which was at one time in danger of falling into the hands of the Carlists, has been reinforced and supplied with provisions and ammunition.

The Carlists in the north have recently met with a series of serious reverses. Discontent and desertions are spreading in their ranks.

Eight persons were killed in Alicante during the bombardment.

The police have closed all gambling houses in Madrid.

From London.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The specie drawn from the Bank of England on advance to-day is for shipment to New York. A special from Berlin hints at financial troubles in Germany. Fancy stocks and book shares are not saleable, some have fallen 20 per cent.

A number of new cases of cholera have made their appearance on a ship which arrived at Liverpool bringing that disease. The vessel is in close quarantine.

There were several accidents on British railways to-day. Several persons were killed and injured. The most serious accident was to the Scotch express train.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—All the seamen of the ship Sunrise, recently arrived from New York, have come forward in a united statement against Captain Clarke and his mates, confirming reports of cruelty of the first mate, and which were not then credited, because the captain denied their truth, and they seemed to be acts too monstrous for human beings to perpetrate. They say that the ceaseless barbarities of the captain and officers, drove two sailors, named Charles Brown and Condliff, to commit suicide by jumping overboard. The two mates, Harris and Maloney, have fled from the city, but Capt. Clarke is still here, and will probably be arrested to-day. He still stoutly denies the truth of the stories told by his crew.

Hugh McM[illegible], the acquitted homicide, who outrageously beat a drunken man and tried to play Mrs. Fair's emotional insanity dodge to escape punishment, was fined $400 by the Police Court to-day, and in default of payment, he was sent to jail for the term of 200 days.

The China steamer is two days overdue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The flags of the Merchants' Exchange building and American shipping in the harbor are at half mast in respect to the memory of Admiral Winslow.

There being no American war vessel at Honolulu at present, and the Kearsarge not being ready for sea, the Saranac will be dispatched as soon as she can take in a supply of coal. It is stated also that the British gunboat Tenedos will sail for the same destination.

The steamer China, from Hongkong and Yokohama, has arrived. All well on board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The body of an infant was found this evening in a vacant lot at the corner of Turk and Gough streets, supposed to be a case of infanticide.

A fire to-night destroyed L. Levy's clothing store, on Pacific street near [illegible]. It is supposed to have been set on fire. The loss is about $1,600; insurance will probably cover this amount. The building was a wooden one, and for a time a [illegible] conflagration was threatened.

[illegible] California.

READING, Sept. 30.—Livingstone Stone, U. S. Deputy Fish Commissioner, leaves to-morrow morning for Charlestown, Mass., with 600,000 salmon eggs, having sent 300,000 last week. These eggs were consigned to the Commissioners of the various States, and are in the embryo state, ready to be replaced in hatching troughs, and will produce young salmon in about ten days after arrival at their destination. Mr. Stone has taken 2,000,000 eggs at McCloud's camp this season, and will continue the business to its close. J. G. Woodbury will be manager during his absence.

The burnt district is being rapidly rebuilt. Business is lively.

CALISTOGA, Sept. 30.—The trial of Lang, conductor, and McCauley, engineer for C. P. R. R. Co., for resisting officer Thomas, came off to-day before Justice Palmer. The defence proved that judgment was issued against Major Hammond, and the Railroad Company. Engineer Mason, was unlocked and left for Vallejo. The defendants were discharged as it was proven they were discharging their duty in carrying the mails.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 30.—At the race track to-day the pacing was for second class pacers for a purse of $300, and was contested between Lady St. Clair, Swindle, Jim Brown and Prussian Maid. The first heat was won by Lady St. Clair, time, 2:23. Maid was close behind; Brown, third, Swindle, (bad) fourth. The second heat was won by Brown; time, 2:22. St. Clair was second. The third heat was closely contested between St. Clair and Brown, the latter coming out ahead; time, 2:24½. The fourth heat was won by Brown, who took the first money; time, 2:23½. St. Clair was second, and Maid third. To-morrow the running race for $600, free to all, and the trotting race for $300 will come off. Occident will be on the track to-morrow probably, and be speeded Friday or Saturday. His presence here creates much interest.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—The returns at the Secretary of State's office, as far as received up to noon to-day, give Neumann 312 majority for Harbor Commissioner. Six counties are to be heard from.

Mrs. F. P. Kingsbury, of the Woman's Anti-Tax-Paying Association of San Francisco, lectures here to-night on taxation without representation.

BENICIA, Sept. 30.—It is currently reported that Benicia will be made a permanent military depot. If true, it will make a large difference in the general activity of the town. At the arsenal new officers' quarters are being erected at an expense of $60,000; also an artesian well is being bored. It is already sunk some hundreds of feet.

FRENCH BATHING COSTUMES.

A correspondent, writing from a Norman watering-place, gives the following description of the bathing costume in which Mademoiselle Crapaud braves the hungry breakers:

Some of the ladies dresses are outrageously fine when they go publicly into salt water. A yard of false hair, a long parasol, a double eyeglass, a pair of sky-blue trousers, a fishing net and opera glass, a feather, a poodle dog, two young gentlemen, an illustrated newspaper of fashions, a pair of lilac boots, a lighted cigarette, a camp stool, a nosegay and a nightcap make up this most simple and interesting costume. The sea is a big place and a French lady may want all these things before she gets to the bottom of it. The best part of her bathing is, as might be supposed to walk on the sand and keep her costume dry. There must be a large crowd to tempt her to wet it, but if she once resolves on doing so, she calls upon all mankind (tout le monde) to witness her courage. Then she commits herself to a broad-shouldered fisherman, who takes her in his arms and goes through a sort of war dance with her while all the gentlemen of the neighborhood are looking on admiringly through telescopes and opera glasses. When she comes out, the proper thing is to ask her [illegible], to which question she answers reflectively Mauvais sujet. At Trouville and some other places, it is considered good, ladylike taste to smoke a cigarette, perched on a camp stool immediately after the war dance above mentioned.

Some ogre of an editor tries to frighten tender consciences by telling young ladies that when they exclaim "Dear me!" they are swearing like troopers. Yet such is the fact, for the phrase, as we have it, is but the corruption of the Italian words Dio Mio, "My God!"

ARTICLE XXV.

AMENDMENTS.

These By-Laws may be amended or revised at any regular meeting of the Grange, by a vote of two-thirds of its members.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.—A correspondent of the Watchman and Reflector, writing from South Troy, Vt., says:

I have discovered a remedy for pulmonary consumption. It has cured a number of cases after they had commenced bleeding at the lungs and the hectic flush was already on the cheek. After trying this remedy to my own satisfaction I have thought that true philanthropy required that I should let it be known to the world. It is the common mullen, steeped strong and sweetened with coffee sugar and drank freely. The herb should be gathered before the 20th of July, if convenient. Young plants or old are good, if dried in the shade and kept in clean paper bags. The medicine must be continued from three to six months, according to the nature of the disease. It cures hard colds and helps to cure typhoid fever and almost any cough. It is good for the urinary vessels also. It strengthens the system and builds up instead of taking away the strength. It makes good blood, and takes inflammation from the lungs. It is the wish of the writer that every periodical in the United States, Canada and Europe should publish this recipe for the benefit of the human family. Lay this up and keep it in the house ready for use. Mullen is found throughout New England and Canada.

Mr. Jenkins ("Ginx's Baby") and the essayist, Fitzjames Stephen, both ran for a seat in Parliament, from Dundee, and both were beaten by a nobody named Yeaman.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.

SEVENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Second Day.

TUESDAY, Sept. 30, 1873.

The weather continues good, and the Fair opens this morning with no less favorable prospects than attended it yesterday. The train from Portland brought quite a number of visitors from that city, and teams came in from every direction, bringing the citizens of the surrounding country, and nearer neighbors came afoot in crowds, so that by 10 o'clock the grounds presented an animated appearance, and the managers of the Fair are working with renewed energy and confidence to make everything result successfully. Our first business on arriving at the grounds was to visit the stalls occupied by the fine

THOROUGHBRED CATTLE

Belonging to S. G. Reed, of Portland, but kept on his farm at Five Oaks, near Hillsboro. These cattle as a lot are without doubt the most perfect breeds in Oregon—many of them cannot be beaten on this coast, while some of them, according to competent judges, would have but few successful competitors among the old and carefully bred herds of England herself. In fact, we noticed a difference between Mr. Reed's Oregon bred and his importations, even in members of the same families, in favor of the former. Through the politeness of Mr. William Watson, who has the sole management of this stock, we are permitted to give a description and some points in the pedigree and history of those which are here on exhibition. Mr. Watson is a native of Scotland, a thorough stock man, and has the history of the animals under his charge at his tongue's end. His perfect understanding of the requirements, habits, diseases, and in fact, everything pertaining to the breeding and rearing of animals, makes his services invaluable to the owners of these costly herds.

The cattle now on the Washington County Fair grounds, imported, and Oregon bred, belonging to Mr. Reed, are as follows:

Governor General, a roan bull 3 years old, bred by M. H. Cochrane, the somewhat noted cattle-breeder at Hillhurst, Canada. The sire of this animal was imported, General Napier; dam imported, Rose of June. He has been on exhibition nine times, and in each case was successful in taking the first prize.

Lord of the Valley is a red and white bull, 14 months old, weighing full 1,500 pounds, and considered by competent judges to be the best animal on the Pacific coast. He was bred by Mr. Reed, his sire being the pure-blood Booth bull, Royal Commander. His dam was Honeysuckle, bred by the famous T. Barnes, of Ireland, from whose herds of shorthorns have come some of the finest specimens of that breed in the world, and this descendant of the family has all the fine points of the old stock. He will compete, and in all probability, successfully with the older animal, Governor General, for the $100 challenge cup to be given to-morrow for the best shorthorn bull of any age.

Mount Hood is a snow white calf, 11 months old, weighing 1,400 pounds, of extraordinary substance [illegible] and [illegible]. He was sired by Governor-General, above mentioned, and is out of Mr. Reed's fine cow Primrose, which is related closely to eight out of four[illegible] winners of first prizes in Great Britain this season, her sire being Prince of the Realm, owned by William Carr, of England. Prince of the Realm is also the sire of A. J. Alexander's [illegible] the Realm, now regarded as the best animal of the kind in America.

Rose Sovereign, a four year old roan cow, bred also by T. Barnes, of Ireland, and sired by Booth's Royal Sovereign, dam Red Rose by the Druid. She weighs 1,600 pounds, and is a great beauty, symmetrical in all her parts, and was a famous prize taker in Great Britain before her importation to this country.

Glossy Woodbine, a dark red cow, three years old, bred by Mr. W. Bolton, Wexford, Ireland, sired by Wood Ranger, and is out of Ida Glossy, she by General Clyde. This is a really splendid heifer, with as fine loins and quarters as we have ever witnessed. At the age of one year she gained enviable distinction in Ireland by winning the thirty guinea challenge cup against the best animals of her age in the United Kingdom.

Rosedale, a red cow, three years old, sired by Bismarck, dam Lady Lucy Thorndale, she by Third Duke of Thorndale, a famous animal in England. She was bred by W. Durham of Palmer's Green, England, and is virtually a Bates heifer, being closely connected with the animals recently sold at Mr. Campbell's sale of blooded stock in New York, of which we gave descriptions last week.

Primrose Ninth, a roan, three years old, bred by Mr. Meadows, of Ireland, and sired by Prince of the Realm, dam Primrose Sixth by First Fiddle. She is a Booth heifer, and was somewhat noted as a prize taker in Great Britain, and connected with nearly all the leading prize takers in that country this season.

Bellflower is a roan heifer, two years old, sired by Imported General Napier, dam Warlaby Flower by Prince of Warlaby. She is descended from one of the most ancient and fashionable families of shorthorns in England at the present day.

The Gem of the Fair Ground, is rightly named, being an animal, on which to look, must be a pleasure to every lover of fine stock. In our judgment, she is the animal of Mr. Reed's herds. She is a rich roan heifer, eleven months, and weighs 900 pounds, being the most perfect animal, of her age, ever shown on the coast. She was sired by Governor General; dam, Glossy Fifth, and bred by Mr. Reed on his farm in Washington county. Her owner has reason to be proud of her, as he has of all his Oregon-bred blooded stock, they showing better parts than even their imported sires and dams.

The foregoing cattle are all of the shorthorn blood, but Mr. Reed has also here some fine specimens of the Ayrshire stock, among which are two cows noted as great milkers, Beauty and Blooming Daisy, both imported, and they each have with them a fine calf.

CLYDESDALE HORSES.

The largest and probably the only thoroughbred horses on the grounds are two fine Clydesdale mares, also owned by Mr. Reed, he having imported them from Scotland. Each of them is valued at $1,000, and each has a colt two months old worth as much. These animals certainly possess superior merit as draft or farm horses, and ought to attract great attention in this new country where there is now so good an opportunity to secure first-class stock.

SHEEP.

There are quite a number of blooded sheep on the ground, many of them appearing to be very fine specimens, but we must defer further descriptions, merely making note of a ewe and her last and this year's lambs, owned by Mr. Reed. This ewe is a pure Cotswold imported direct from England, where she was the champion ewe at the meeting of the Royal Agricultural Association held in 1871. Her lamb, one year old last spring, sheared 15½ pounds, and both lambs equal or surpass their mother in beauty and size.

THE PAVILION.

The exhibition of articles here has greatly increased both in variety and quantity and now presents a very attractive appearance. The pavilion has been visited by crowds of people whose admiration of the many really fine articles to be seen is expressed in various ways, some passing by the elegant pictures, drawings, etc., with scarcely a glance, to carefully examine and wonder at the large samples of vegetables piled around. The wheat to be seen here is pronounced by all to be the best in color and plumpness of grain they have ever seen. The display of fruits is not very large, though some splendid samples are exhibited. The ladies are still bringing in specimens of their handiwork and arranging them, so that they may be displayed to the best advantage. To-morrow's report we hope to make full in regard to this department.

SWINE.

Several fine animals of this class are to be seen in the stalls set apart for swine. Among them we noticed specimens that are creditable to their breeder. The bloods represented and principally admired are the Chester whites and Berkshires. The collection is small, there being only twenty-seven animals, all told, on the ground, but for blood, form and size, they compare favorably with the best we have seen at any of our Oregon State Fairs.

SADDLE HORSES.

The contest for the best saddle horse was begun at 11 o'clock A. M., to-day, with two entries. Dr. Hoopengarner entered g. h. Grey Dick. W. G. Scoggins entered s. h. Billy. The horses were speeded around the track in a walk and then in a trot. After witnessing their gait, the Judges, W. H. Bennett, James Imbrie, Sr., W. D. Hoxter, gave the blue ribbon to Billy, the red falling to Grey Dick, of course.

HORSES FOR ALL WORK.

Immediately following the contest between the saddle horses came that for horses of all work, the Judges being the same as last named except that Mr. Hoxter's place was filled by Mr. W. O. Gibson, the former having entered a span of horses in this contest. There were three very fine teams entered. Mr. Everson entered a span of [illegible], Mr. S[illegible] a span of sorrels, Mr. Purdin a span of dark bays, and Mr. Hoxter a span of dark bays. They were put around the track once or twice until the judges, satisfied of their respective merits, gave the first premium to Mr. Hoxter and the second to Mr. Scoggins. Mr. Hoxter's team took a good honest trot around the track followed by the others, some of them breaking up badly, but the first "kept up their lick," and made the mile in 4:31; Scoggins' sorrels, 5:04; Purdin's team, 5.44, and Everson's, 5:45.

THE RACE OF THE DAY

Came off at 1 o'clock, P. M., being a running match, mile heats, 2 best in 3, open to all for $200 to the first and $100 to the second fastest. For this race there were three entries, James Bybee naming his bay mare W[illegible]; W. G. Scoggins, his bay horse Norwich, and James Bird, his sorrel mare Esther Minor. Pools were selling, for some time before noon, by Oscar Kilbourn, Esq., auctioneer of this city. The favorite in the pools seemed, at first, to be Norwich, but bids on Weasel were about even, while those for Minor were about 1 to 4. H. Boyd, Esq., Superintendent of the Class of Running Horses, called the race on time, Ben Cornelius, John Ladd and W. D. Hoxter being Judges. From the time the horses appeared on the track, Weasel seemed to gain in the favor of the crowd, and to stand full as high as his competitor Norwich. The latter is one of the most restless, and at the same time [illegible] powerful animal we ever saw on the turf. Twice, before a full start was made, he broke from his trainer and owner, both powerful men, and sped away to the quarter [illegible] before his rider could check him. Being brought to the score at last, they [illegible] off by the judges, Norwich about two lengths in the lead being on the inside of the track, Weasel on the outside next, lapped by Minor in the center. The last caught the dust and failed to gain anything on the two bays who kept nearly an equal speed until the quarter [illegible] was reached, when W[illegible] [illegible] going we have [illegible] past Norwich like an arrow sent from a bow," and gaining a [illegible] two lengths ahead, which she [illegible]tained till the heat closed. [illegible] 1:55½, Norwich second. The [illegible] after this, though a few pools were sold [illegible] first he [illegible] to 2 on [illegible] Norwich again began to show his [illegible] or violence by rearing and plunging, finally br[illegible] away from the [illegible] half way, around the track. At the start for the second heat, Minor took the [illegible], W[illegible] next and Norwich received the dust from their heels full in his face until they were so far ahead that it settled before he came on at a slow gait for a track. This heat was run very closely between Minor and W[illegible], the little sorrel surprising many by doing so well, but she was not quite [illegible] in making a third heat necessary, for W[illegible] pushed ahead, coming in first in 1:59 with Minor's nose at her side, Norwich being distanced. So Weasel took the race and the money to the chagrin of some of those who thought they had a "soft thing" on the "bay charger."

CARRIAGE HORSES.

The contest for the premium offered to the best span of carriage horses took place at 3 P. M., between three teams entered by Walter Moffett, W. G. Scoggins and W. D. Hoxter, respectively. The judges, Messrs. Jas. Imbrie, John Ladd and Geo. H. Durham, adorned Mr. Moffett's team with the blue ribbon and Mr. Scoggin's with the red.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Reed's Panorama was exhibited this afternoon especially for the benefit of the children, who were admitted free of charge. This is the most instructive and entertaining place of amusement here, and draws well.

The Rosedale Troupe played last night to a fair house and gave good satisfaction.

A number of new shops for various purposes have set up to give the dear people a chance to get rid of their surplus change, but the dear people "don't see it" with that degree of liberality that the shopkeepers would like to see.

Wilson's Circus, we learn, failed to make satisfactory arrangements with the managers in regard to license and will not show on the grounds, but will open out at Hillsboro to-morrow. The licenses charged for everything seem too high for the number of people here.

The total receipts of gate-money and entrance fees yesterday were $1,235, and up to 4 o'clock to-day the receipts at the gate alone for the two days, were $950. The amount of entry money cannot be ascertained at present.

To-morrow the premiums will be awarded, some races of minor importance and a shooting match. Thursday will be the closing and probably most interesting day of the Fair.

THE TERRITORIES.

Early closing will be inaugurated at Olympia to-day.

It is probable that vessels of the Star Line will be placed on the line between San Francisco and the Sound.

S. J. Kimball, Chief of Revenue Marine, and Capt. Faunce, Chief of Life Saving Service, are making a tour of the Sound.

The reporter of the Salt Lake Tribune, anti-Mormon paper, was expelled from a meeting of the City Council recently, and now said reporter goes for em.

President Grant has appointed J. W. Wahn, Esq., recently Indian Agent for Wyoming Territory, Register of the Land Office for Utah Territory, vice Gen. Geo. R. Maxwell.

There are 300 native Indians living on the Snohomish Reservation, W. T. Logging has been the principal occupation for the last two years—at least two camps being run all the time, and $4 50 and $5 per thousand being realized all the time. About 60 tons of hay, any quantity of vegetables, and some fruit and grain were raised this summer, and the Indians are in a prosperous condition.

Whatcom county, W. T., according to the report of the Secretary of the County Fair, has thousands of acres of land which will produce 30 to 100 bushels of grain, or three tons of hay, or 300 to 500 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Within the county are thousands of acres of timber, inexhaustible coal mines, islands of limestone, extensive quarries of fine sandstone and unlimited means of water communication. Salmon, halibut, herring, clams, mussels, oysters, in abundance. And they don't care about the "terminus."

WEDNESDAY MORNING OCT. 1 1873

A STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

Long before the Forty-second Congress adjourned, the premonitory symptoms of the great revolution now imminent in the West, had begun to show themselves at Washington. The low rumbling of a universal discontent among the producing classes, momentarily growing louder, called the Republican party, always foremost in redressing national grievances, to grapple with the great, the overshadowing question of the day—cheap transportation. Quick to recognize the omens of the hour, the Senate at its special session last spring, appointed the committee known as the Senate Committee on Transportation, with instructions to inquire into the cause of and the most feasible remedy for this loud complaint. The majority of the Committee have been devoting the greater part of the summer to this arduous [illegible]ty. They have visited all the great commercial ports on the Atlantic seaboard, and have everywhere met with a hearty welcome. On the 16th instant the Committee went to Montreal, Canada, [illegible] through Lachine canal and listened to the boasts of prominent Montreal merchants and capitalists, that Canada, through the Welland canal and a system of cheap transportation, would yet divert the grain carriage of the West from [illegible] canal to St Lawrence river—that Montreal is even now preparing to contest [illegible] the commercial supremacy of the [illegible] with the great me[illegible] of the Empire State. It was a [illegible] boast, but the response from the [illegible] justified it. One of them re[illegible] "If the people of Canada [illegible] carry the grain to the seaboard [illegible] than the Americans could, then [illegible] would have the trade." Senator [illegible]

[illegible] had given her water carriage, made [illegible] of Almighty God, and the Ohio [illegible] if New York did not offer [illegible] for the carriage of the grain, [illegible] would bring it to Montreal. The [illegible] and its development knew no [illegible], and no accidental differences. [illegible] have an outlet.

[illegible] Senator Windom, who has been [illegible] one of the staunchest friends [illegible] of the West, feeling keenly [illegible] which are imposed upon [illegible] railway monarchs, said: [illegible] from the interior of the con[illegible] years past and during [illegible] our farmers have been com[illegible] their corn for fuel, for want of [illegible], I am rejoiced when I see [illegible] a way to the ocean, [illegible] Atlantic, [illegible] If we can let out [illegible] into the [illegible] of it in [illegible] I am glad to see our facilities [illegible] you, my friends of [illegible] you have taken this matter. In [illegible] it will. [illegible] is future as to ours.

[illegible] utterances were taken [illegible] and echoed in New [illegible] they have elicited [illegible] The New York Times [illegible] ed[illegible] in which it says that the [illegible] which the future of New [illegible] whether the trade of the [illegible] the ocean by way of [illegible] or St. Lawrence river. The [illegible] York is in the North; Mon[illegible] Welland and St. Lawrence [illegible] is preparing to [illegible] than ever be[illegible] upon which New [illegible]. The Times is not [illegible] to conceal the palpable [illegible] York [illegible] cannot [illegible] sufficient promptitude and [illegible] trade they have, and un[illegible] that "if things are [illegible] as they have for the last few [illegible] most certainly win the [illegible] which she has entered" [illegible] pride causes a re[illegible] the supremacy of our national [illegible] is thus threatened by a rival [illegible] has been so subtle as to [illegible] watchful eyes of the shrewd[illegible] in the world, we cannot but [illegible] with Senator Sherman that the pro[illegible] and its development know [illegible] and no accidental dif[illegible].

[illegible] elaborate table of statistics compiled [illegible] the New York Tribune from official [illegible] and New York reports shows [illegible] fact that within ten years [illegible] York has lost thirty per cent of the [illegible] formerly transacted in that [illegible] the three years 1861-63 inclusive [illegible] of wheat and flour to tide [illegible] by the Erie and Oswego Canals was [illegible] in the three years 1870-72 [illegible] it was 1,611,051 tons a decrease [illegible] tons. But during the years in [illegible] decline was going on, [illegible] of the country, which in former [illegible] to that canal system, [illegible] in an inverse ratio [illegible] the crops of 1860-62 averaged some[illegible] like 175,000,000 bushels of wheat, [illegible] in 1870-72 the average was 230,000,[illegible] bushels. So that with an increase of [illegible] one third in the quantity of wheat [illegible] and shipped eastward there [illegible] of nearly one half in the [illegible] shipped by the New York canals. On the other hand note this, that in the three years ending with 1863 the receipts [illegible] exports at Montreal amounted to [illegible],000,000, while in the three years ending with 1872 they were over $100,000,000. Here, then, is a decrease in the carrying [illegible] of New York canals of fifty per cent and an increase in the business of Mo[illegible] of some eighty-five per cent.

These figures are eloquent of decay and [illegible] to our metropolis—of robust growth and vigor to her rival. With them before us we need no further proof that the enormous export trade of New York is in pro[illegible] of rapid dissolution. The hands of Montreal are on her sceptre.

At the last session of the Indiana [illegible] a bill increasing the compensation [illegible] judges was passed and approved March [illegible]. ADMIRAL WINSLOW

The telegraph announces the death of this distinguished naval officer on yesterday at his home in Boston Highlands. The name of John A Winslow is associated with one of the most brilliant naval exploits of the age—the sinking in the harbor of Cherbourg of the Confederate privateer Alabama whose depredations on American commerce had made its name a symbol of terror to defenseless skippers. The brave commander of the little Kearsarge was honored as few men are honored and he passes away leaving behind him a life crowned with the lustre of a matchless deed.

For several years at each annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows attempts have been made to procure a repeal of the Sunday Law so called an ordinance adopted in 1870 by the Grand Lodge and which provides that no Lodge or Encampment or Degree Lodge, shall hold any meeting for business or work on Sunday excepting for funeral purposes. On the 19th inst Representative Estee of California under instructions from the Grand Lodge of that State offered in the Grand Lodge at Baltimore a resolution providing for the repeal of the ordinance and recommending that the subject matter thereof be left to the discretion of the Grand bodies under the jurisdiction of that Grand Lodge. The resolution was referred to a committee and majority and minority reports were made. A spirited discussion of the majority report resulted in its adoption. The matter is decided for a year at any rate.

In New York that newspaper fungus the theatrical critic attains most alarming dimensions. Here is a specimen from one who has heard Nilsson. We copy it from a leading daily in the Empire City:

It was natural to expect that the vicissitudes of years by enriching the experience of the artiste would provide her with more valuable material for those sub-creative processes which an original individualization may be said to employ. It was inevitable that those who admired her intelligently should look forward to the time when the creative powers of her genius should have acquired stronger impulses and exercise themselves upon a wider variety of themes. That time has now arrived. The more passionate experiences of a maturer womanhood when used to serve a well defined artistic purpose never fail to give additional lustre to the vague virginal touch.

If any American can read that, and not feel proud that the gushing author is his fellow-citizen he is lacking in healthy national pride.

A Washington dispatch of September 15th says that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that a person who sells at the place of manufacture wine made exclusively of grapes of his own growth is not liable to the special tax as a liquor dealer for such sales but if he sells such wine away from the place of manufacture he is liable. A vintner however, who sells wine made from grapes not exclusively of his own growth, is subject to the special tax therefor whether selling such wine at the place where it is made or elsewhere.

Colusa county, California is disgusted with a sensation. A seventeen year old damsel left home one day on horseback and has not since returned, although her steed with all his caparisons came back for his oats. They say the girl was captured by Greasers, who were camped in that locality, but we should say that a Mexican who would capture the woman and not steal her horse has gone back on the traditions and usages of his nationality.

THE YANKTON TRAGEDY

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE ORIGIN OF THE DIFFICULTY

[Sioux City Journal September 11.]

Several months since, when the office of United States Marshal of Dakota was made vacant by the death of Litchfield, General McCook was an applicant for the position. Without going into the history of the case, it is sufficient to say that McCook was not successful, and that he believed he had good reasons for inferring that those he thought his friends sold him out and among the number was Wintermute. From that time there was ill-feeling between the two men. Some time subsequent to the above event certain citizens of Yankton held a meeting to protest against the re-appointment of Gov Burbank. At this meeting Wintermute presided. McCook was present, and approving the appointment took a part in the meeting which was objectionable to Wintermute, and the feeling of dislike each entertained for the other was still further intensified. However no personal collision occurred until the fatal last Thursday night. On the evening in question there was a meeting of citizens favorable to harmonizing the differences existing between the county of Yankton and the management of the Dakota Southern, and Wintermute was present with the avowed object it is claimed, of breaking it up. He had been drinking some but was not what could be termed intoxicated. After having made a motion in the meeting which was not entertained, he passed out of the court room into the St Charles, the two being connected by a hall way. In the hotel Wintermute met McCook and in a sneering sort of way asked for a loan of five cents saying that he wanted to buy a cigar. McCook realizing that the request was not a sincere one replied that he had not the money and if he did have it he wouldn't let Wintermute have it, or something of that sort. Without further words Wintermute passed on and descended to the bar-room of the house. Entering the place he approached a gentleman of his acquaintance and said "I'm madder than I have been since coming to Dakota" and being asked the reason said that he had just asked McCook for five cents and had been refused. He said this in a half laughing way and his hearers thought the matter a joke but in the light of subsequent events it would seem that he was deliberately attempting to provoke McCook and bring about a collision. As Wintermute was talking about the refusal to loan him five cents McCook entered the room and came up to the group in an easy good natured manner evidently not in the least put out by what had passed between himself and Wintermute. The latter persisted that he had been insulted whereupon a bystander who did not believe Wintermute meant what he said put in that if a small man like McCook should insult him he would whip him. Wintermute then wheeled around and shaking his finger in McCook's face in a threatening manner said "By G—d I can whip you." McCook laughed and said "I guess not" and turned as if to go away. Wintermute then said in a very excited tone "If I can't whip you I'll [illegible] d—d [illegible] I can't [illegible] you." Upon this remark McCook did not [illegible] but when Wintermute followed it up by saying "[illegible] d—d dirty [illegible]" McCook [illegible] him and [illegible] him by the collar with one hand struck him [illegible] slapped him several blows in the face [illegible] him about the room and finally thrust Wintermute's face [illegible] against [illegible] and rubbed [illegible] saying "You'll show me [illegible] you." McCook then released Wintermute and went up stairs while the latter went to his room [illegible] several blocks off [illegible] procured a pistol and then returned to the meeting where [illegible] the [illegible] present to [illegible] had been [illegible] out of his [illegible] by General McCook. He put his [illegible] to the ear of [illegible] present and said "I shall shoot McCook on sight [illegible]." The gentleman believed it but an idle threat [illegible] upon [illegible] that McCook should be warned and started off [illegible]. He [illegible] to the [illegible] without meeting McCook and [illegible] the [illegible] heard the [illegible] that Wintermute had carried out his murderous intention. It is hardly necessary to recapitulate the particulars of this horrid murder for our report of yesterday was correct in all particulars. Wintermute watched until his victim unsuspicious of danger came through the hall to enter the Court room when the assassin made a few rapid strides toward the door drew his pistol and without a word of warning fired and the gallant McCook had his death wound

The lady who tapped her husband gently with a fan at a party the other night and said "Love it's growing late I think we had better go home" is the same one who after getting home shook the rolling pin under his nose and said "You infernal old scoundrel you if you ever look at that mean nasty calico faced, mackerel-eyed thing that you looked at to-night I'll bust your head wide open."

BRITISH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY —We are in receipt of a circular published and distributed by this Society From it we make the following extract

The object of this Society is to relieve sick and destitute British subjects All British subjects and persons born in Great Britain or any British possessions are eligible for membership and honorary members are admitted without these requisites

The subscription is one dollar per month Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month

The Relief Committee consists of the President Vice President Secretary Rev G Burton and Robert Irving

The Committee earnestly desire to extend the sphere of usefulness which the Society has entered upon The claims upon its funds are many and urgent and active co-operation among the charitably disposed is necessary if the wants of the distressed applicants are to be supplied This evening the Society will hold a regular monthly meeting at the office of Corbitt & Macleay, at 7.30 o clock sharp A full attendance is requested

SPECIAL RATES —Arrangements have been effected by the members of the Masonic Fraternity of Portland with the railroad company in reference to special rates of fare on the 8th and 9th of October The laying of the corner stone of the State Capitol will take place one week from to-morrow under the auspices of the Masons of the State Hundreds are anxious to be present to witness these interesting ceremonies It is for the accommodation of those who expect to go upon the cars that the arrangements have been effected Persons who wish to attend on that occasion can purchase at the office tickets for the round trip for $3 25 each These tickets are good for either Thursday or Friday but no longer This, it will be observed is quite a reduction of the usual rates of fare For the express accommodation of those who wish to return to Portland on Thursday at the conclusion of the ceremonies, the train will be detained behind the usual time

TUNNELING —Tunneling began yesterday under Front street diagonally across from the Cosmopolitan Hotel, to the corner of the brick building formerly occupied by Ladd & Tilton s bank Mr Parker the contractor for the sewer, has engaged Thomas Hawley and Robert Shortill to dig the tunnel These men are both old experienced miners They expect to complete the task in about three day The tunnel will be five feet high and three feet four inches wide This tunnel will be a great convenience to the public, for without it the pavement would have to be torn up to enable the ditch to be dug, thus preventing for several days teams from passing along the street The opening of this tunnel will prove more expensive than digging a ditch, but Mr Parker, the contractor does not receive anything additional from the city

LARCENY —A fellow calling himself George Wyant was arrested last evening for larceny A man entered a beer saloon with a pair of new boots swinging over his arm for the purpose of indulging in the malt beverage Calling for some beer he sat down at a table He carelessly threw the boots one side, and Wyant, who was eyeing them with the evident object of conversion, came up quietly and picking them up walked out at a back door His movements were watched, and several persons followed him out Wyant started to run when he found that he was detected, but was quickly overhauled and brought back He was taken to jail, when the matter will be examined into this morning.

STEAM POWER.—The somewhat extensive sausage grinder which is connected with the butcher shop of Mr Cline, at the corner of First and Alder streets, has heretofore been propelled by horse power, operating on an inclined endless chain But the enterprising gentleman has abolished horse power and adopted steam Yesterday carpenters were engaged in fixing up the boiler and placing the engine in position The boiler is about eight feet long and eighteen inches in diameter while the engine is 12-inch stroke and 4 inch [illegible] Its full working capacity is equal to four horse The engine is a handsome little model, and will be able to reduce steaks to mince-meat in short [illegible]

ALL READY.—The vessels Privateer, Wetterhorn and Windermere have completed their cargoes of grain They are lying at Astoria and waiting for a favorable opportunity to pass out to sea For [illegible] days, very dense clouds of fog and smoke have hung about the mouth of the Columbia, which has rendered it difficult and hazardous for vessels to cross over, whether coming in or going out Just as the Astoria steamer was leaving yesterday morning, the Privateer hoisted her canvas and started seaward but it is quite certain that the vessel failed to pass over on account of the prevailing thickness off the bar

MARKET TO CLOSE.—Those who are engaged in business at the Central Market have wisely concluded not to remain behind their fellow dealers in the early closing movement that has worked quite a revolution in business circles in Portland within the last three weeks As will be seen, by referring to another column, the Central Market will hereafter close promptly at 8 o clock each evening except Saturday. This being a busy night when every person wishes to do the marketing for Sunday, the stalls will keep open until 10 o clock The public should bear this change in mind and govern themselves accordingly.

CALENDAR OF CRIME —During the month just closed there have been 183 arrests made by the police force. Of these, 7 were discharged and 176 convicted of the crimes with which they were individually charged and fined The following is the classification of the offenses Obstructing the streets, 1 committing a nuisance, 12 assault and battery, 27 fast driving 2, drunks, 81 peddling without a license 1 defacing a building 3, carrying a concealed weapon, 1 larceny 16 vagrancy, 1, disorderly conduct 30 running without a license 1

ARM BROKEN —A little daughter of Mr James McKinnon sixteen months of age while playing on last Monday evening fell down a flight of stairs a distance of five or six feet and broke the left arm just above the wrist At first but little attention was paid to the matter until the parents ascertained that the limb was broken The child was then taken to Dr Ghiselin and the limb was properly set The little sufferer is doing well

SERVICES REQUESTED —According to request of some Scandinavians there will be preaching in [illegible] Moore s hall at the corner of Ninth and D streets, on Sunday next October 5th at 7 o clock P M in the Norwegian language The Scandinavians are requested to bring with them their hymn books in the different languages A F Fridrichsen pastor of the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church will officiate

AT YREKA —Mr G T DePrans received a telegram yesterday from Charles Vivian who accompanied by his troupe is coming to this State The dispatch stated that the troupe was then at Yreka that they would make all possible haste toward the State Fair where they expected to arrive [illegible] of the month After the Fair they will come to this city and give a series of performances

GRAIN ELEVATOR —The O S N Co have we learn concluded to construct a grain elevator on their new wharf at the foot of Ash street Work will probably be [illegible] day An engine will be stationed on the wharf and is to be arranged with rope and tackling so that large quantities of wheat can be lifted from boats to the dock with great rapidity or placed on board the boats from the wharf

PORTRAIT OF GEN. CANBY.

A splendid portrait of the late Gen E R S Canby, in oil colors, executed by the artist Mr H Campion was finished some time after his tragical death and placed on exhibition at Gray s Music store in this city The price of the painting was $100 A subscription was circulated among the citizens of Portland for the purchase of the portrait with a view of presenting it to the widow of the lamented officer. So anxious and willing were our generous citizens to manifest their sympathy and good feeling toward Mrs Canby in her deep affliction, by the presentation of some fitting, substantial testimonial that the required amount was raised at once and the portrait purchased Mrs Canby who was kept ignorant of the whole matter was notified by letter some time ago of the purchase of the portrait of her departed and beloved husband and of the object of its purchase The letter stated that the painting would be held subject to her order In response to the letter, Mr DePrans received yesterday the following answer from Mrs Canby

INDIANAPOLIS Sept 18 1873

My Dear Sir I have but poor words by which to express the gratitude of my heart towards my many kind friends in Portland Their repeated testimonials of delicate regard are more than welcome as showing their esteem for my husband whose true worth even they can know but in part

Please present my warmest thanks to all who share in these tokens of love You may forward the painting to my address care of J C S Harrison Esq Indianapolis Ind

BAZAINE AT METZ

INTENSE HATRED OF THE PEOPLE—RECOLLECTIONS OF THE SIEGE.

(Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial)

There is a perfect unanimity here as to the treason of Bazaine The landlady who keeps the hotel in which I write—the Hotel d Europe—assured me that they had all the necessaries and many of the luxuries of life in the hotel and that at no time was any examination made as to the amount of food contained in this large hotel The surrender came upon her and others like a thunderstroke I have asked a score of people how much longer Metz could have held out and nearly all have replied a month It has become a proverb in Metz that Bazaine thought first of the Emperor next of himself and last of France I have heard the phrase a dozen times To day my coachman drew up his horse and stopped in sight of a beautiful villa completely embowered in ornamental pollard trees and said it was there that Bazaine was domiciled during the siege it was there that he slept on the night of the battle of Gravelotte I remarked that on the same night the King of Prussia slept on an ambulance and the fellow had the wit to rejoin with a shrug Yes and now the King of Prussia owns Metz I hardly think that the villa in question—not far from the foot of St Quentin—will be a comfortable residence for Bazaine in future And a future he will have although these people of Metz are superstitious enough to think that their prayers and testimonies will bring the musketry of MacMahon to bear upon the traitor He is more likely to become Commander-in-Chief of the French army in the days drawing nigh, which are already bringing all the old tools of imperialism out of their holes again

GERMAN ARTILLERY DURING THE LATE WAR —According to an official statement which has been published the German field artillery fired 3 1 169 shots during the war of 1870 1 Of this number 146 144 shots were fired by heavy field batteries 1 3 804 shots by light field batteries 53 134 by horse batteries 7 7 6 by heavy reserve batteries and 11 80 by light reserve batteries To the total number of shots as given above must be added 1 4 460 shrapnel and 1 0 grape shots so that altogether [illegible] shots were fired The number of shots fired by the Prussian artillery in former campaigns was In 1813-14 75 881 shots 1815 18 080 shots 1864 41 247 shots and in 1866 36 188 shots During the war of 1870–71 says the Vaterland of Munich the Bavarian troops lost 19 per cent while the loss sustained by the Prussian troops was only 11 per cent.

THE SEARCH FOR THE GEO S WRIGHT

THE OFFICIAL REPORT

REVENUE STEAMER LINCOLN,
PORT TOWNSEND W T
August 23 1873

SIR The revenue steamer Lincoln under my command arrived at Port Townsend W T this day at 1 30 P M via Nanaimo B C where I stopped to take in coal and discharge the pilot

The Lincoln left Port Townsend on the 9th instant in compliance with your communication of the 2d instant directing me by authority of the Hon Secretary of the Treasury to proceed with her to Queen Charlotte sound and adjacent waters with a view to ascertaining the fate of the passengers and crew of the wrecked steamer George S Wright lost in these waters some time in February last I proceeded first to Victoria B C to procure a pilot for the northern waters but was unable to get one there I also called upon His Excellency Governor Trutch who kindly offered to render me any assistance I might desire

After leaving Victoria I went to Nanaimo for coal and obtained the services of Mr [illegible] Solostman as pilot

At Victoria and Nanaimo I heard vague rumors that some of the passengers and crew of the George S Wright had reached the shore and were murdered by the Indians

I left Nanaimo on the 11th instant and anchored in Port Dunn on the evening of that date to wait for the proper tide to steam through Seymour s Narrows From thence I proceeded to Blenheimsop and Alert bays hoping at the latter place to meet with Father Huquet (a Catholic priest) but he was absent and his whereabouts were very uncertain From Alert bay I shaped my course for Fort Rupert Beaver harbor and there employed Mr George Hunt as an Indian interpreter Leaving Fort Rupert I stood for Cape Caution and reaching that point I dispatched Lieutenant Orcutt in the second cutter to explore the beach in that vicinity After remaining ashore about an hour he returned and informed me there were two masts on the beach which he judged to have belonged to the George S Wright The mainmast was painted black and the foremast bright, except the part which came in her between decks that was painted white He also saw some portions of her top work Lieut Orcutt had frequently seen the Geo S Wright and he felt assured beyond doubt that these were portions of her wreck and from previous and subsequent descriptions I have had of her I fully concur with him I anchored that evening in Safety Cove, Calvert Island and next day went to McLaughlin Bay (Bella Bella) Hearing there that some of the wreck had drifted on Prince Island, Mill Bank sound I got the Lincoln under way on the morning of the 17th and started for that Island I sent a boat on my arrival there in charge of Lieut Rogers to search along the shore where this portion of the wreck was reported to have landed but he was unable to find any traces of it I returned that evening to Bella Bella

At Bella Koula up the Bentinck Arm the Indians encamped there were reported to have been the first to visit Cape Caution after the wreck of the steamer I therefore concluded to go to Bella Koula and have an interview with them It was necessary to employ an Indian as an extra pilot to take the Lincoln there Arriving at Bella Koula I had an interview with an Indian named Coohootes who was one of the Indians in the canoe that landed at Cape Caution as mentioned above He described the portion of the wreck seen at this point as her top works and masts He also got the name board with George S Wright painted on it The name board was subsequently sent to Victoria There were also some deer skins on the beach a portion of which he took to Victoria and sold

Up to this date I had communication with the following tribes, viz Nowwhitts and Nawantons who live in the vicinity of Cape Caution also the Bella Bella and Bella Koula Indians They readily answered all my questions and freely gave all the information they possessed They seemed very peaceable and have that reputation among the agents of the Hudson Bay Company who live among them. I came to the conclusion that the rumors and reports of foul play being done to any of the passengers and crew of the Wright were instigated by a few unreliable and unprincipled white men whose reputation in British Columbia is very bad I would also mention it as reported that the body of a half breed boy is buried at Hill Kish Narrows Finlayson channel It was found floating in that neighborhood This boy with his father went on board the George S Wright at Kygave on her last trip from Sitka Kygave was the place the Wright was last seen There were also two other bodies reported to have been found and buried at Aristarvable Island about ten miles up Laredo Channel but I could not trace this information to any reliable source I think I have made a thorough search in Queen Charlotte Sound and adjacent waters for relics of the ill fated steamer In my opinion unquestionably the George S Wright struck on the rocks of the Sea Otter group, and every soul on board perished These rocks lie about nine miles to the northward and westward of Cape Caution They are mostly below water

A steamer striking them in a gale of wind will soon break up and unless possessing the very best class of boats there would scarcely be a chance of any one reaching the shore I firmly believe the Wright s boats were launched from the vessel and if they were they quickly swamped for nowhere could I find any pieces of boats nor could I obtain any information of them

Unable to obtain any more knowledge relative to the loss of the steamer and the sad fate of those on board I made the best of my way to this place stopping at Nanaimo as previously mentioned for coal

HOTEL BILLS AT NORMAN WATERING PLACES —A correspondent of the New York Herald writing from a fashionable summer resort in Normandy says

I have two hotel bills now before me which show the actual expense of traveling in Normandy better than a whole column of loose words One of these hotel bills is dated from the Cote de Balcon a capital old inn at Rouen and lumps the hotel expenses of the day a good clean bed included and plentiful homely fare at seven francs and a half say $1 40 This is the cheapest and best hotel on the road The other hotel bill is a much more awful document It is dated from the Hotel des Roches Noires at Trouville the finest of all the fine hotels on the coast but neither so good nor so clean as the ancient inn at Rouen Two days at the Hotel des Roches Noires cost just 75 francs and 50 centimes or $14 [illegible] to a moderate man who takes things easily The breakfast and dinner are really the same as those provided at the Cote de Balcon but the items make the bill more than a foot long It is hardly worth while to go into the prices in detail They are the same as those charged at the Cafe Anglais—six francs for a beefsteak and so forth

It must be admitted however that one gets a good deal for [illegible] [illegible] with the [illegible] [illegible] the American [illegible] [illegible] have been [illegible] ever

ENGLAND'S COAL SUPPLY

THE ALARM NOT WITHOUT CAUSE—THE COUNTRY NEAR THE END OF ITS FUEL SUPPLY—THE EFFECT OF THE STRIKES

Mr E Jones the mining engineer of the Lilleshall Iron and Coal Engineering Company, delivered his inaugural address to the members of the institute of South Midland Engineers in Wolverhampton, England about two weeks ago. He sketched the growth of the alarm which had from time to time found expression as to the English coal supply and spoke of the appointment of the first royal coal commission. Subsequent events he said had proved that there was cause for alarm, for experience had shown that the quantity of fuel left unworked in the best coalfields was less than the coal commission estimated He was therefore inclined to the opinion of Sir William Armstrong that the country was nearer the end of its fuel supply than the outside world had any idea of Let the members take as an illustration the counties of Stafford Worcester and Shropshire and view them in relation to our future supply The first yield [illegible] al output of ten millions of [illegible] an [illegible] tity brought to bank [illegible] and the [illegible] as in proportion to [illegible] throughout Shropshire of consumed [illegible] at in Staffordshire [illegible] discovered [illegible] and if no further [illegible] a few more years would [illegible] of the supplies of best [illegible] house coal in these counties [illegible] his own county (Salop) he re[illegible] say that the end was not far off. [illegible] making no new discoveries Bor[illegible] north of the county, at Child's [illegible] conducted to a depth of 1,100 [illegible] of coal, and, though £6,000 [illegible] years of time had been spent yet it [illegible] to be expended. The borings made [illegible] Hospital estate, near Wellington touched the igneous rocks at the depth of [illegible] feet, thus confirming the opinion he had [illegible] in a paper to the Severn Valley Field [illegible] in 1866 As recently as Saturday last, [illegible] Hill [illegible] boring at Wollerton the igneous [illegible] at 200 [illegible] He [illegible] mended that the work should stop at 200 feet, for previous sinkings had led him [illegible] that there was nothing but drift [illegible] underlying the upper new red sandstone [illegible], on the east side of the field near to [illegible] the ground was found to be much [illegible] and faulty, with strong evidences of [illegible] Unless the trial sinking at Sand[illegible] and other places should prove successful [illegible] new winnings at Cannock would not make [illegible] for the rapid exhaustion of the thick coal in [illegible] Dudley and other places [illegible] of this country had been [illegible] to be due to the cheap production of [illegible] The [illegible] in the [illegible] at low prices in the ten years preceding [illegible] was the primary cause of the great development of the iron trade, the extension of [illegible] of our colonies [illegible] steam [illegible] contributed to the expansion [illegible] our engineering, and even [illegible] nations. Such, indeed, was [illegible] which the abundance and cheap[illegible] fuel [illegible] for it from all parts of [illegible] that the demand could not at last [illegible] The [illegible] was a panic, accompanied [illegible] with which they were all familiar, [illegible] to exist. If this panic [illegible] of an inability to meet a demand [illegible] what would be the result of a [illegible] which no lapse of time could [illegible] duction of our mineral fuel [illegible] on the application of [illegible] to [illegible] At great depths we [illegible] and [illegible] manual labor [illegible] of the work, machinery and [illegible] the [illegible] tion of England and happiness. Mr Jones dwelt [illegible] upon the injury which was [illegible] and to the [illegible] by the [illegible] tion of [illegible] which led to an [illegible] the [illegible] and his employers; [illegible] if the members of the institute [illegible] to this con[illegible] would allay [illegible] toward them [illegible] they [illegible] with. [illegible] which was in operation [illegible] of the Lilleshall Company [illegible] that the men, in going about [illegible] on the [illegible] of having [illegible] money under [illegible] all that he had to [illegible] said on [illegible] and had [illegible] was strictly [illegible] by [illegible] and not [illegible] for the [illegible] out of fifty then [illegible] out of sixty-four in an[illegible] to earn [illegible] one shilling [illegible] and [illegible] a day [illegible] On the 1st inst. the [illegible] new Coal Mines Regula[illegible] of the [illegible] and he had to give notice to [illegible] but ten days before the first four [illegible] struck work, [illegible] to re[illegible] by the day and [illegible] that [illegible] He [illegible] two-thirds of the [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] backed by their union or[illegible] pits' companies had now [illegible] and they remained idle, [illegible] needed at the pits, [illegible] waiting for all of them [illegible] would enable the majority to [illegible] shillings for six hours' work [illegible] thirds would gladly return, but they [illegible] nor dared any miner, in opposition [illegible] go into the stalls and take up the [illegible] ity had [illegible] doing, on [illegible] to be no [illegible] there [illegible] cause for sur[illegible] that he would not [illegible] Halliday [illegible] of the union [illegible] To do so [illegible] to acknowledge their right to man[illegible] He had met [illegible] of his [illegible] and was always happy to meet [illegible] It [illegible] him much to see his men re[illegible] friends to the condition of [illegible] equal [illegible] upon false [illegible] of well-paid labor [illegible] and the country was being [illegible] by their [illegible]

[illegible] OVERSTRIKING.

[illegible] AND A [illegible] AT BEULAH IN A SINGLE DAY

[illegible] Sea Cliff controversy has assumed a new [illegible]. A family [illegible] residing on the disputed [illegible] and obtained permission of [illegible] Langdon to bury a relative from New [illegible] on the ground. To avoid, if possible, [illegible] the grave was [illegible] out in the [illegible] away from the original Beulah property, on the [illegible] which had been negotiated for but for which no deeds has been given The [illegible] of the Sea Cliff Company, who occupies the farm, forbade the digging of the grave, and [illegible] the arrest of any one who should [illegible] it. Mrs Langdon ordered the grave[illegible] to proceed. He did so with a will until [illegible] of the [illegible] with two or three constables [illegible] on the spot to arrest him when he [illegible]. Mrs Langdon now took up the shovel and the pick, declaring that the grave would be dug if she had to do it herself and [illegible] them to arrest her The novel spectacle of a refined, wealthy lady in silk digging a grave, astounded the officers With firmness of purpose she remained at work the grave [illegible] deepened, and the attempt at arrest was [illegible]. On the arrival of the train with the friends and the remains assistance was rendered the lady, who had become exhausted and the grave was finished. Woman's will had achieved a signal victory Foiled in the attempt to stop the work, the Sea Cliff party after the burial was completed, took the friends of the deceased aside, and by arguments and threats induced them to exhume the remains and bury them elsewhere This was done and so there was a burial and a resurrection in a single day Mrs Langdon says that while the Sea Cliff Company have appropriated the out buildings and the land they have not pretended to own the house She intends to occupy the dwelling to-day The original suit has not been abandoned but will be firmly pressed

Sea Cliff Grove is the headquarters of the Sanctificationists and the proprietors of this watering-place of the higher life are at present [illegible] in a lawsuit with certain elect Methodist ladies, who originated the Beulah Mission a home for homeless children The Beulah Mission sisters allege that the Sea Cliff brethren induced them to exchange their property already partly improved for some at Sea Cliff that was comparatively valueless and that confiding in the representations of the saints afore said they have been sweetly relieved of some of their property We don't know anything about the merits of the quarrel It is hard to believe that the sisters could make [illegible] and injurious [illegible] against the brethren, and equally hard to think that the brethren connected with such an association could do anything naughty And it would be still more painful to find out that both parties are in the wrong The case is in the courts and it is likely before it is finished some light may be thrown upon the manner of building up religious watering places —N Y Tribune Sept 16th

A BOLD TRICK —The writer was told by a diamond broker yesterday that the gentleman in charge of the diamond department of a large Philadelphia jewelry store had selected a number of very valuable diamonds some time ago and had them set in a necklace which he estimated to be worth $30,000 He was so watchful of it that he always took it out of its compartment in the safe and deposited it in the show case with his own hands. A lady who was one of the largest customers [illegible] house saw it one day and [illegible] of the [illegible] with it She was very [illegible] fascinated feared her husband [illegible] anxious to buy it [illegible] [illegible] who was one of the wealth[illegible] the expenditure [illegible] would not [illegible] turning to secure it so much money After re[illegible] to the store several times in the course [illegible] she said she would buy it and if [illegible] husband objected so strongly she would return it It was accordingly sent to her house and placed in her hands After the lapse of four days she brought it back, saying that her husband would not permit her to keep it It remained in the store two weeks the gentlemen who had it constructed taking care of it personally as before Then it was sold to an other lady Three days afterward this second lady's husband, a man of great wealth and above suspicion in point of character came in to the store in a rage to return the necklace declaring that the stones were paste A careful examination proved that he was right and the price paid for it was refunded to him So excellent was the imitation, and so carefully had the necklace been reset with worthless stones, that although the gentleman who owned it had handled it every day in the interval between its first return to the store and the second purchase he was unable to feel sure on which occasion the fraud had been committed and employed detectives to watch the movements of both ladies and used every means in his power to discover where and by what lapidary the necklace was reset, but in vain

Horrible D[illegible]

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, &c., [illegible] attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most inveterate [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all [illegible] in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz., Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] of treating this disease, which never fails of [illegible] a quick and radical cure. Dr. G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married [illegible]

Or those who contemplate [illegible], who are [illegible] ing under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to [illegible] patient a written instrument, binding him[illegible] to effect a radical and permanent cure or [illegible] no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating [illegible] symptoms, length of time the [illegible] has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a [illegible] of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates [illegible] the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and [illegible] newspapers of San Francisco and other [illegible] tradesmen) and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible] carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many [illegible] for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting [illegible] titles certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat all cases that he [illegible] to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney st., corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1,957.
